

Jane Galles – Prayer for America

2 Oct 22

Heavenly Father:

We come to you today as one mind and one body of believers. The airwaves have been full of the devastation of Hurricane Ian and the falling stock markets. It seems like every time we go to the grocery store, everything costs more and we are getting less for our money.

Our cities are in chaos and confusion and we see violence out of control. Our gender identities are becoming cloudy and our culture is changing so fast. There is no logic or common sense anymore in our government.

Thank you Lord for being our one, true constant in our lives. We can trust you, we can believe you, and we know that you are in control.

Father the peace that you give us is beyond understanding. The calm in chaos only comes from you. Heavenly Father, I pray for those in our nation who have not yet turned their lives to you. I pray for our nation's lost souls. Thank you Father for placing their needs in our hearts. May we as a nation pray fervently that we may repent and turn to you and you will be our nation's one God.

AMEN
